MEN WEAK, DISEASED MEN

I want you to read this announcement carefully and compare it to any other. Then I want you to investigate my standing and compare it with that of any other specialist. Then, if you will visit my office and do not find that I am better equipped than any other specialist in Salt Lake City to give you first class scientific treatment, I will give you a cure without a penny's cost. When you see some one come out with an ad claiming to be the only one who knows anything, do not forget that you should put them down as a boastful, meaningless, irresponsible know-nothing.

I Cure by Electricity With Absorption, Which Cannot Fail.

IF IT HAPPENS IT'S IN THE HERALD.

ARE YOU GOING TO LET THIS GREAT OPPORTUNITY PASS BY UNNEEDED?

There's Time Yet for Wide-awake Persons to Get in Line for Distribution of $12,500 Worth of Valuable Prizes; What Hustlers Are Saying and Doing.

"Master of human destinies am I, Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait. Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate Deserts and seas remote, and passing by Hovel and mart and palace—soon or late I knock unbidden once at every gate. If sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise before I turn away. It is the hour of fate. And they who follow me reach every state. Mortals desire and conquer every foe. Save Death. But those who doubt or hesitate, Condemned to failure, penury and woe. Seek me in vain, and uselessly implore. I answer not and I return no more."

So sang John J. Ingalls in a sonnet more or less borrowed from Gigliotti. It was a temptation, this fourteen-line story of life. And despite the fact that the writer has found more or less grief from the use of poetry, the poem, "Opportunity," quoted above, introduced this article to the contest. It is a temptation to use it as a model.

To wide-awake men and women and young folks, The Salt Lake Herald would say: Opportunity. Have you seen it? It is drawing the visitor turns away—never to return. For never will it "show you." One thing is true: The opportunity to get something worth while, worth thousands of dollars' worth of beautiful and useful things are to be distributed. Turn to the Contest Page and read about it. Learn about it. It is worth anybody's time, as is evidenced by the fact that the best people in widely scattered districts are entered and working with enthusiasm that can mean but one thing: a splendid run in the race. Do not take the word of the writer for it. The statement, The Contest Page is for "Missouri." Read over the list of candidates. It will "show you." One thing is true: Do not get the idea that, because some candidates have large totals, this competition is too old to make it worth while your entering. Weeks and weeks lie ahead for those who want to win something that will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

R. H. Forsyth of District A, and its present leader, by the way, has been entered only a few days. Other candidates had big totals when his name was sent in. But Mr. Forsyth was a young man to whom this meant nothing. He entered with the modest announcement that he "was going to try." And trying is making an effort and effort seldom, if ever, fails to get results. Mr. Forsyth entered a district in which a number of strong candidates are enrolled. He knew this, also, and yet came into the contest with that unassuming "I am going to try." "I see an opportunity to share mutual benefits," said this young man, "I have read about the contest and am now ready to try."

The truth of the lines—
And they who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire and conquer every foe
Save Death.
There are more Mr. Forsyths in this world. It may be you or it may be a friend. Unless, indeed, he entered it is useless to Opportunity's knocking. The other day the interviewer said there was no reason for any man or woman not entering this contest if the nominee is in good standing in his or her locality. The interviewer has yet "to be shown."

One of the fair candidates is Miss Anna Crow of the lace department of the Z. C. M. I. Miss Crow is a nominee in District D and resides at 42 South Tenth East Street. She is a most attractive young lady and is as pleasant as she is pretty. Social circles among the younger set of the city and surrounding country know her for she is popular and a singer of unusual ability. Because she has her days taken up and her evenings also more or less filled by social and musical engagements, she has not been able to devote as much time to furthering her interests in The Herald's contest as she would have wished.

"Several times I have been on the point of requesting my nomination canceled, but some one will return to his mission and the fact that an opportunity would pass by unneeded, are points bobbing up in consideration. I am going to spread the news among my friends and use every effort to get in line."

MADDOCK MAKES CHANGE

Mills Gets in Game and Coach Believes It Will Strengthen Team.

Edgar Mills, the star end and halfback at the university, who has been a victim of the eligibility committee, has made up his deficiencies and will be seen in the lineup in Saturday's game. The addition of Mills will strengthen the team greatly, and will make a change in the line possible which Maddock has contemplated for some time. Mills will play center in the line, and will be a valuable man to guard and Gardner to center. A. Oleson or Brown playing the other guard position is really a weak point, and Maddock did not want to risk him in this position, but now that he has fully recovered from his injury, Maddock will play him in the tackle position. This new arrangement will be tried for the first time in the game with the soldiers Saturday.

FORT DOUGLAS LINE-UP.

Lieutenant Ellis Selects Men Who Play U Tomorrow.

The Fort Douglas football team had a splendid practice yesterday afternoon during which time the soldiers worked out against the All Hallows' team. When last evening, Manager Ellis said he was more than pleased with the showing made by the boys in blue, and predicted the victory would be up against a surprise tomorrow. The fort team has organized a strong crowd of rooters which will be headed by the fort band. The game has been set for 3 o'clock sharp. Manager Ellis said last night that he had selected his team for the game, and that it would be as follows: Lockhart, center; Huddleston and Howard, guards; Brady and Dixon, tackles; Johnson and Hesman, ends; Garvey, quarter; Mulcahy, fullback; Ceregheno and Mollock, halfbacks.

OUT IN THE SECOND.

Reno, Nev., Oct. 22.—Monte Attel knocked out Bobby Johnson, both of San Francisco, in the middle of the second round tonight at the Wheelman hall. Johnson was the aggressor until a blow finished him.

SCORES DISTINCT SUCCESS

Maud Adams Surpasses Previous Efforts Appearing in "What Every Woman Knows."

Mrs. Annie Adams Kiskadden, mother of Maud Adams, the noted actress, is in receipt of a recent copy of the New York Times which speaks in the highest terms of the impression which her talented daughter is making in Gotham. It said: "Maud Adams scored a distinct success in the first American production of J. M. Barrie's comedy, 'What Every Woman Knows.' She excelled past estimates of her artistic merits. New Yorkers in the audience found more of the artistic than in any of her previous successes."
